MOBBED FOR SHOOTING A DOG.

Harry Bird Defends Himself From Bites and is Nearly Killed.

Because a man defended himself from savage dogs on Kinau street last night he was set upon by a number of half-drunk owners of the beasts and very nearly beaten to death.

Harry Bird, the head boat-builder of the repair shops of Wilder's Steamship Company, lives on Kinau street. Right next door to him live several Hawaiians who own vicious curs. Bird has many times gone to his home at night and had encounters with the animals. Recently he made up his mind to carry a gun and armed himself with a 32-calibre revolver.

Last night Bird spent the evening at the Hawaiian hotel with a number of friends. He was dressed for the occasion and was wearing diamonds. He had a handsome diamond stud in his shirt, a diamond pin in his necktie and diamond buttons in his cuffs. Between 10 and 11 o'clock he left the hotel and started home, with the small revolver in his pocket.

On reaching his gate he was suddenly set upon by the dogs. He tried to evade them, but finding this impossible, pulled his gun and fired at the foremost brute. The first shot missed the mark and he fired again. The second shot took effect in the dog's forehead. The animals scattered and Bird stood for a second on the edge of the sidewalk, putting his gun back in his pocket.

Then it was that a big native came out of the house next door, seized Bird and commenced to pummel his head. It was not a moment before another native came and took a hand in the affair, and in a very few minutes several men were at it. They took Bird's pistol out of his pocket and smashed him with the weapon until his face was a bloody pulp.

Policemen Ake and Sherman arrived and took Bird and the two natives who had first attacked him into custody. The names of the natives are Shui and James Kahomo. They were both the worse for liquor.

The three men were taken to the police station, where Bird was charged with carrying a weapon and the natives with assault and battery.

Bird's wounds received temporary treatment at the police station. In the attack by the two natives, Bird lost his cuff and necktie diamonds, the diamond stud in his shirt still remaining with him, although the shirt itself was literally torn to shreds.

What Physicians

SAY ABOUT Taroena Food.

"Being a sufferer from fermentative dyspepsia, I used Taroena with many doubts as to its starchy food agreeing with me. To my surprise, Taroena and my stomach have always remained on the best of terms, to my great satisfaction and comfort."—JAMES STIMSON, M.D., Watsonville, Cal.

"I have had occasion to test the merits of a great number of prepared foods while treating cases of seasickness. I find none of them half as useful as Taroena Food. I am thoroughly convinced that Taroena is the most nutritious food I have ever used."—MILAN SOULE, M.D., Steamship Australia.

"My experience with Taroena warrants me in recommending it as one of the most valuable of the farinaceous foods. It is particularly suited to all inflammatory conditions of the gastric intestinal tract. When made into the form of a gruel and used it is retained when other foods are rejected."—F. R. DAY, M.D., Honolulu.

"Taroena Food, in my opinion, is an excellent infant and invalid food and in many cases where I have used it, it has always proved satisfactory. I have four patients using it at present."—G. J. BUCKNELL, M.D., San Francisco, Cal.

"Taroena Food is a most wholesome and nutritious article of diet, invaluable to dyspeptics. I know of nothing to equal it. The stomach will retain it when nothing else."—GEORGE HERBERT, M.D., Honolulu.

"Three babies who were unable to retain food or medicine improved promptly under Taroena Food, retaining it from the first. In one case a child's life was saved by its use."—H. A. SCHWENDENER, M.D., St. Joseph, Mich.

Another Large Shipment of Angle Lamps. THE ANGLE LAMP THE LIGHT THAT NEVER FAILS.

It seems almost incredible that any lamp could be good enough to take the place of electricity on even terms, yet such is the case with the ANGLE LAMP. All over the island people are throwing away their old lamps and replacing them with the lamp, not merely because it costs about one-tenth as much to maintain (cost is no object to some people), but, besides being infinitely cheaper, it is more brilliant and more reliable in the bargain. It is a
